

IKEA/DII: Swedish Design Teleconferences

The Design Innovation Institute, a 501(c)(3) non-profit organization, promotes innovative, interdisciplinary approaches to design in culture, technology and the economy through education, research and exhibitions.

The Design Innovation Institute is seeking funds to develop programs in the following three areas:

FOUNDATION

Design Education

Promote understanding of the cultural and economic role of design in developing solutions to present and future needs. Programs include public forums, youth workshops, locally and nationally televised programs, and the Dii web site.

Design Museum

A visual and interactive means of education, the Dii museum will be the first museum of its kind in San Diego, home to 39 museums, none of which are exclusively devoted to design. Dii's museum will house a permanent collection as well as host temporary and traveling exhibitions.

Design Research

As a center for applied and scholarly research, Dii will act as a catalyst for the discovery of effective design solutions by bringing together the most ingenious and entrepreneurial minds in architecture, graphic design, environmental design, urban planning, ergonomics, cultural anthropology, and neurosciences, among many others.
